

Rideshare Driver Endorsement

Effective November 30, 2017, Plymouth Rock is introducing two new insurance options that can help part-time Pennsylvania rideshare drivers cover medical expenses, damage to your car and more while working for Transportation Network Companies (TNCs) like Uber or Lyft.

Why is this so important?

While driving rideshare companies like Uber and Lyft, personal auto policies across the industry may not cover you while you're working. And, you may not be fully covered by the insurance your rideshare company provides.

Rideshare companies have commercial policies for drivers under periods 2 and 3, but period 1 usually only comes with limited liability protection. That means there may be limited coverage for your car or your injuries under the rideshare company's policy.

Plymouth Rock's rideshare endorsement for part-time drivers can help avoid some potential coverage gaps and shortfalls.

Plan Options:

1. The basic rideshare driver endorsement offers excess coverage that expands what you may receive from an Uber or a Lyft in period 1.
2. The enhanced rideshare driver endorsement includes the basic coverage, along with excess coverage for the coverages outlined above during periods 2 and 3. Plus, Plymouth Rock will cover the difference in the physical damage deductible on your personal policy and the deductible on the TNC policy in those two periods.
